

HOME HAPPENINGS.

Canfield has the best schools of any small town in this quarter of the state.

C. C. Neff sold a fine road mare last week to Dr. Cox in Youngstown for $180.

First snow of the season last Friday, but not enough to be noticeable on the ground.

A great crowd from this locality went to Youngstown Monday to attend the big Taff demonstration.

Quite a number of Canfield ladies were entertained Wednesday by Mrs. John Owens in Youngstown.

The hunting season opens Nov. 15, but as that date falls on Sunday of course there will be nothing doing.

There is every promise that Canfield will have important clay industries before another year rolls round.

There was very little evidence about town Sunday morning that the boys had been out for a time Halloween.

The contract to furnish coal for the union school building was awarded to Dells & Sons at $2.40 a ton for Pittsburgh coal.

Mrs. M. E. Servis, formerly of Canfield, has removed from Long Beach, Cal., where she resided several years, to Hanford, Cal.

J. K. Alexander and wife, formerly of Canfield, who have been at Manitowish, Wis., for some time, recently returned to their home in Minerva.

A stated meeting of Argus Lodge, F. & A. M., will be held this (Friday) evening at which time officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club will be held Friday evening, Nov. 13, when Rev. Mr. Reinhold of Warren will deliver an address.

The Home Missionary society of the M. E. Church will hold a mission tea at the residence of P. T. Jones next Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will hold their annual bazaar Dec. 9 and 10, during the Farmers' Institute. They will also serve dinners.

C. H. Kennedy sent to the Dispatch office Tuesday morning a sugar beet grown in his garden that weighed 43 pounds, and he believes for the variety it will be hard to beat.

By the decisive vote of 295 to 88 Canfield village and township election approved the plan of building five miles of improved roads to connect with those leading to Youngstown.

Manager G. G. King of the Youngstown Telephone Co. generously had a telephone placed in town hall Tuesday and complete election returns were promptly furnished a large number of citizens.

J. H. C. Lyon was greeted by a fair-sized crowd in College Chapel last Saturday night when he ably discussed the taxation amendment and no doubt influenced some votes in favor of the measure.

The barn that stood east of the new Methodist church was on Saturday turned around and moved several rods to the north so that the ground it occupied could be graded and used for hitching purposes.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. C. C. Buck entertained the Sittichery Club at her home on West Main street and in the evening Mrs. W. J. Sutton had the Winoanah Club for guests at her home on High street.

E. P. Boyle, for quite a number of years a resident of Canfield, recently sold his 100-acre farm between Boardman and Poland for $12,500. He and his wife will remove to Youngstown where their children now reside.

The Builders' Aid Society of the Methodist church realized $131 from their Halloween social and "peppy" investment plan for the new church. This society has been organized one year and has raised $540 during that time.

The meeting of the county grange in Canfield last Saturday was largely attended. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: Master, A. M. Sigle; overseer, O. J. Meserly; lecturer, W. A. Chubb; secretary, H. C. Heinzelman.

An enjoyable Halloween social in charge of the Newtonian and Philomathean literary societies was held in College Chapel Friday night. The student dance was quite good and the net receipts amounted to about $20. New books will be purchased for the college library.

A meeting will be held in town hall next Tuesday night to organize a Board of Trade. Nearly one hundred business men and other citizens have expressed a desire to affiliate with such an organization through which it is hoped new industries can be secured and the business of the town generally greatly increased. Don't miss the meeting next Tuesday night.

C. R. Powers, station agent in this place for several months, resigned last week and was succeeded by Ira Sondeck, a well known and popular Canfield boy, who was for some time employed by the Erie in Sharon, and his promotion to the agency here is merited recognition of his capability as a railroad man. Mr. Powers will engage in the insurance business.

Mrs. Melissa Lowrie, widow of the late J. K. Lowrie, died last Saturday at the home of her son William in Warren, aged 85 years. The deceased resided in Canfield for nearly half a century. Some months since she was stricken with paralysis and her mind became afflicted. She was taken to a Youngstown hospital for treatment and had been with her son in Warren only a few weeks when called by death. The deceased was a member of the Canfield Presbyterian church. She is survived by one son, William, one brother and two sisters. Funeral services were held Monday and the remains were brought to Canfield and laid to rest in the village cemetery.

The Beechwood Sporting Club, organized 38 years ago at Hickory, held its annual meeting and about last Saturday at the home of J. H. Miller in Salem. The belt was won by S. O. Manchester of Niles, he making the best score. The day was full of pleasure for the members and their ladies. Next year the annual dinner will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weaver. The organization is composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Burgett, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cossas, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Weaver. In the election the organization named the following officers for the coming year: R. A. Manchester, president; Thomas Weaver, vice president; S. O. Manchester, secretary. The ladies also have an organization and Mrs. C. C. Bowman is president and Mrs. S. O. Manchester, secretary.

Banner office. Mr. Arnold's many Canfield friends wish him a full measure of success in his new field of endeavor.

ELECTION RESULTS IN OLD CANFIELD

Despite the beautiful weather election day the vote was not as large in Canfield as was expected, only 351 ballots being cast—192 in the village and 159 in the township. Much scratching was done, and this, with the length of the ticket, made the count slow and the work was not completed until after midnight.

The count of votes on the road improvement proposition was made first and showed 295 votes for and 88 against the measure. Twenty negative votes were cast in the village and 68 in the township.

Two prohibition votes were cast and the socialist ticket got one.

Sam Shaffer and family spent Sunday with Willie Beatty of Denon.

A. R. Durr and B. E. Durr went to Diamond Monday where they purchased a fine bunch of sheep from John Cessna.

The anger of our citizen's has been aroused by a recent fire in the corn field of Sam Shaffer and he helped himself to 25 bushels of Mr. Shaffer's nicot corn. Sam had worked extra hard that day, and getting through late, covered his corn and thought to haul it to his grain house in the morning. When he went out only a few small ears of corn remained. The thief had taken the best. Steps should have been taken to recover the corn and bring the guilty person to light, but this time he was let go, but beware in the future.

Ellsworth.
Nov. 5.—The Character Club will hold its first meeting of the season Friday night at the home of Mrs. J. M. Howard.

Union services will be held in the Presbyterian church Sunday at 10 a. m. Miss Osborn, of Cleveland, a Deaconess will speak in the M. E. Church Sunday evening.

AUTUMN LEAF SOFA CUSHION.

Something New Among the Many Pretty and Bright Designs.

A pretty soft cushion may be made in the following way: Take a square of dark green linen, the size you wish the cushion; cut out leaves of brown linen, light green linen, yellow linen and pale yellow and bright orange linen; baste them on in a border design, making a cluster of them in one corner, from which a vine of them issues, to encircle the square. After they have all been basted in place take bright and dark green silk and button-hole them about the edges, chain-stitching veins in the leaves with the same colors. On light green leaves use the dark green floss, and vice versa. If more of a variety of colors is desired some of the brown leaves may be outlined with bright red silk instead of green. The colors make a pretty combination, and the cushion cover will be both serviceable and durable, not soiling easily like more dainty pillow tops of silk or light-colored stuffs. The bottom cover may be of bright red canvas or heavy twilled cotton. A mixed brown and red or green cord may be put about the edge to form a neat and effective finish.

NEW IDEAS IN MILLINERY.
Effective Trimming for Hats of All Sizes and Designs.

Dahlias in velvet and silk and in the most exquisite fancy and natural colorings are a smart novelty.

There is a noticeable tendency toward the simplification of trimming effects, which increases daily.

Smart collars made to correspond with the new plumage-covered hats are the latest thing, and come in all the new shades.

Immensely full flounces and crown pieces made of ostrich in the new kangaroo fringe style are the height of fashion, and are marvelously effective in light and dark green or two shades of stone green.

Cache-mire effects in panaches of ostrich are the favorite of a clever Paris designer. They show wonderful blending of dull Persian shades, which extend both over the flue and the quills of the plumes.

Tiny dwarf apples in deep garnet, rose and a variety of green tones oftentimes from the sole trimming on hats of the dressier type.

One of the most attractive models of the season is a dark blue gendarme velvet hat trimmed with a thick garland of deep green orange foliage, and two full-sized velvet oranges in natural color, fastened at the left side of the wide brim.

Well-Kept Hands.
Two bottles should be kept in a handy place in the kitchen, one containing five parts of lemon juice to one of alcohol, the other, one-fourth ounce of gum tragacanth added to a pint of rain-water which has stood three days, then one ounce each of alcohol, glycerin and witch-hazel, also a very little good perfume. After washing dishes, preparing vegetables or doing any rough kitchen work, apply a little of the lemon juice, then the other lotion, and in a moment the hands are dry, soft and very smooth. All stains disappear quickly and the nails are cleaned easily. This process repeated a few times each day will repay any housekeeper for the slight trouble. The expense of these preparations is comparatively nothing.—The Housekeeper.

Making Lace Gimpes.
Lace gimpes should always be made large enough to extend at least two inches all around beyond the opening which they are intended to fill, while a still better success is assured if sufficient material can be spared to allow them to extend right across the front. If the chemise is square a loop at the two points in front should be supplemented by another loop in the center, and two tapes must be fastened to either side of the gimpes at the back, says Woman's Life. When the gimpes are worn the tapes should be brought around under the arms, passed through the three loops and tied in a bow in front.

To Straighten Child's Bowlegs.
Bowlegs can be cured by purchasing a small tricycle for the child as soon as it can walk nicely, says a correspondent. This will be much cheaper than treatment from a doctor or the use of braces which often is advised. The constant stretching for the pedal strengthens and straightens the legs in a short time and is a great pleasure for the child. I have tried this experiment and have had the best success.

The New Evening Mantle.
A charming and useful article, seen now in Paris, is the new evening mantle for the shoulders, in place of a scarf. It is of crepe de chine, or embroidered silk, and is generally heavily weighted with silk fringe or deep lace, so that it clings to the form. This, too, may be drawn over the head to protect the hair.—Vogue.

As a Man is Born.
Men are born Populists or Wordworthians, Lockists or Kantists, and there is nothing more to be said of the matter. We do not hear that the green spectacles persuaded the horse into thinking that the shavings were grass.—James Russell Lowell.

Life.
Life is a cocktail, made up for the most part of sweet things, and tinged with a dash of bitterness. We must drain it to the dregs to get at the cherry, just as we must live a full and rounded life to know all its pleasures.—Detroit Free Press.
